5-different types of finishes and coatings

TYPE 1- Cloisonné Pins – This type of pin is hard enamel with several options on plating, you can use Gold, Silver & Copper plating. This is a higher class of pin, more of a professional look.

TYPE 2 – Photo Etched Pins – Are lighter in weight, using a thin Metal. A photo etched pin can have a higher detail. They are available with two types of finish, either with Poly Coating or no Poly Coating. These pins can be done in gold or silver plating, and the same color on the attachment.

TYPE 3 – All Metal - Can be done by Stamping or Injection. They can be Pins, Medals, Coins, a Medal w/bolo attachment & Belt Buckles. These can be done in shiny gold, silver or copper, and also the same colors in an antique gold, silver & copper. We have different types of attachments to accommodate what ever your need may be.

TYPE 4 – Die Struck – Soft Enamel – This can be done in flat die with Iron material, if 3-dimensional, then we can use copper or bronze material which is more expensive. Size limited to 2” or less. Plating can be gold, silver, or bronze (copper color), and also antique plating in gold, silver, or bronze (copper color). Normally a poly coating would be added to enhance the design. This pin, buckle or medal is done in a thicker metal. See pin samples for details.

TYPE 5 – Screen Printing-with Epoxy – This is the least expensive method of making pins. This method is simply taking a photo of the design and attaching it to a thin metal base, and adding poly coating to protect the design. The base metal can be gold or silver with the attachment. This design has a flat set-up fee that will be figured into the cost of the pins. No plating color is needed in this process.
